

Company Profile

Atlas Link (Group) is an international supplier of various IVD diagnostic test kits, medical disposable items and laboratory disposable items. We are committed to supply a full line of In Vitro Diagnostic test kits under our NOVAtest® brand, and OEM package as well.

With some of our products registered with FDA, the company system getting ISO13485 certification and hCG pregnancy tests getting CE certificate with the notified party number 0123, under our advanced technology backup from USA and Canadian, with special material selection standard, rich R&D experiences and cost control procedure, our IVD testing kits maintain a significant competitive edge in the international market.

With in-house graphic designing department, we would like to offer quality services on OEM packing, such as private labeling, at very effective cost.

With the extensive network of the manufacturers of products connected with IVD test kits, such as vacuum blood collection tubes, disposable syringe, laboratory disposable items, disposable gloves and medical dressing, we can be your reliable agent for this category of products.

Atlas Link is an active exhibitor in international trade fairs such as MEDICA Fair in Germany and Hospitalar in Brazil. Our Mission is to provide quality medical products and services that meet customer's specific requirements at fair and competitive prices in a timely manner.

We are committed to make diagnostics of diseases easier, faster and less expensive by transferring the benefits of new research results in IVD testing realm to the people all around the world.